

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

When displaying a stereoscopic image, in order to display a natural stereoscopic image such that an area other than an area of attention is not displayed ahead of the focused area, an area of attention to be clearly displayed where an object to be focused exists is specified at a time of displaying two images to make a stereoscopic image, and gradation processing is performed on an area other than the area.